Lopatcong Township School District 321 Stonehenge Dr., Phillipsburg, NJ 08865

Lopatcong Township, Warren County, New Jersey is seeking an outstanding educational leader beginning on or about January 1, 2023 to lead our district. Lopatcong Township is an idyllic, small community of 9000 residents surrounded by rolling hills and the meandering Delaware River. The district PreK-8 includes an elementary and a middle school with a total student population of roughly 900 students. High school students attend Phillipsburg High School in a send/receive relationship. Our district has a newly established full day Kindergarten, a recently redeveloped, but growing STEAM program, and active and engaging students and parents. Students flourish in a safe, engaging and structured environment that affords our children opportunities for growth.

A multiyear contract will be offered, subject to experience and candidate qualifications.

Candidates must possess the proper NJ Certification or be immediately eligible to obtain the same.
